

American Sniper Chris Kyle: Life and Death of the Most Lethal American Sniper (American Military History Book 1)

Chris Kyle was a true American hero. He is known as the American Sniper. Chris Kyle was one of Americas greatest snipers, credited with 160 confirmed kills. He was tragically killed by Eddie Routh, a former Iraqi marine. He died senselessly before the age of 40, not on the battlefield defending his country, but shot in the back and head by the very man he was trying to help deal with PTSD. Chris Kyle protected troops in the ground during four tours of duty in Iraq. He was involved in several key Iraqi battles. He achieved a mythical status while protecting troops in Iraq. If the soldiers on the ground knew he was providing sniper cover of the area, they felt safe and secure in their operation. Chris Kyles life serves as an example of the effects of war on people, the trauma they experience on the battlefield, and the challenges involved in coming home and integrating back into regular life. This heros life collided with a man who could not deal with the effects of war, and the consequences were tragic. Both Chris Kyle and Chad Littlefield were murdered by Eddie Routh.
