

This is Ron Paul's Farewell to Congress and clarion call for education in Austrian economics and liberty, delivered in the House of Representatives on November 14th 2012. Fittingly, Lew Rockwell writes the courageous introduction: Ron is the anti-politician. He tells unfashionable truths, educates rather than flatters the public, and stands up for principle even when the whole world is arrayed against him. It's Ron's truth-telling and his urge to educate the public that should inspire us as we carry on into the future. You can view all of our Ron Paul books here.
