Not illustrated. 1899 edition. Excerpt: ...at first, happen luckily to lie pretty much as one would desire,--here the great flint stones, here the pebbles--and diamonds too. The men of genius knew all this, said more than all this, in their way and proper place on the outside, where Miss M. is still saying something of the kind--to be taken up in its time by some other Mr. Cobden and talked about, and beleaguered. But such people cannot or will not see where their office begins and advantageously ends; and that there is such a thing as influencing the influencers, playing the Bentham to the Cobden, the Barry to a Commission for Public Works, the Lough to the three or four industrious men with square paper caps who get rules and plummets and dot the blocks of marble all over as his drawings indicate. So you and I will go to Salerno or L (not to the L--akes, Heaven forefend!) and if we let sail winged words, freighted with truth from the throne of God--we may be sure Ah, presumption all of it! Then, you shall fill the words with their freight, and I will look on and love you,--is that too much? Yes--for any other--No--for one you know is yours--Your very own. For the quick departing yesterday our day was not spoken of.. it is Saturday, is it not? E. B. B. to B. B. Tuesday Evening. Post-mark, July 1, 1846. Thank you for letting me see dear Mr. Kenyons letter. He loves you, admires you, trusts you. When what is done cannot be undone, then he will forgive you besides--that is, he will forgive both of us, and set himself to see all manner of good where now he would see evil if we asked him to look. So we will not, if you please, ask him to look on the encouragement of ever so many more kind notes, pleasant as they are to read, and worthy to trust to, under certain conditions. Dear Mr....
